

CENTRAL CONNECTICUT ASSOCIATION OF RETARDED CITIZENS HONORS KAESTLE BOOS ASSOCIATES

New Britain, Connecticut, May 23, 2007 – Kaestle Boos Associates (KBA), one of New England's most experienced architectural design firms is the recipient of the 2007 Partnership Award from the Central Connecticut Association for Retarded Citizens (CCARC). The firm was honored for its support of CCARC over the last decade during a ceremony this month.

"Kaestle Boos Associates has been our steady partner in the business of improving the lives of people with disabilities," says Anne Ruwet, CEO of CCARC. "Not only did KBA design our main facility, but they have also donated design services for the renovation project at our Slater Road House which is starting this year. The firm has also employed a number of our members. We appreciate Kaestle Boos' guidance and support that they have so readily given over the years and are pleased to name them an award recipient."

"As a member on CCARC's Board of Directors, I see first-hand the wonderful things they are doing for so many members of our community," says Charles W. Boos, Chairman and CEO of Kaestle Boos Associates. "Our firm has always been committed to public service and is a big believer in the city of New Britain, which makes CCARC a perfect fit for us. I personally can't wait to see the renovated space on Slater Road which will be used for CCARC's clinical services, office space and counseling. On behalf of everyone at Kaestle Boos Associates, I want to thank CCARC for this honor."

Kaestle Boos Associates, Inc., is one of New England's most experienced full service design firms with offices in Foxborough, Massachusetts, New Britain, Connecticut, and Portsmouth, New Hampshire. The firm specializes in educational, public safety, theater arts, parks and recreation and other public architecture. Founded in 1963, the firm's ultimate goal is to create structures that are functional, aesthetically pleasing, environmentally sound, and economically justifiable.
